

Leading the Way to a Future of Possibilities

When I was born they thought I wouldn't make it.

But with strength, love, and God, he made a way.

And I defeated all odds.

Weighing in, at only 4 lbs. and 8 ounces.

Yes I was tiny you see.

With a heart big as a mountain, being tiny was nothing at all to me.

I grew up and I became smart.

Who knew in this life, I would play such a big part.

Making a difference in my family life will be a start.

Going to college getting a degree lays heavy on my heart.

I will strive to be the best and nothing less.

I will see it through the good, the bad, and even the ugly.

I was put on this earth to uplift, to motivate, and to educate.

I will stand tall to make it happen through it all.

As we all know that a mind is a terrible thing to waste.

And education is the most powerful tool that can change the world.

I want to make a difference.

And achieve my hope and dreams.

By living the college education dreams.
